MEMORANDUM

To: Hon. Ariel A. Rodriguez
Assignment Judges
Family Presiding Judges

Supplement to Directive #06-12

From: Glenn A. Grant, J.A.D.

Date: August 23, 2012

Re: Family – Delayed Effective Date for Rule Amendments and Revised Forms Relating to Termination of Parental Rights (TPR) Matters

Directive #06-12 (issued July 11, 2012) promulgated a revised set of Children in Court (CIC) Standards and revised forms and protocols and distributed the Court's June 26, 2012 amendments to Rules 2:4-1(a) and 5:12-4 relating to termination of parental rights (TPR) cases, particularly appeals in those cases. This Supplement to that Directive advises of a revised effective date for those rule amendments, certain of the forms and protocols, and one portion of the Directive itself.

It was determined that a modest amount of additional time (two months) was needed for all of the affected actors to implement the new standards, protocols, and policies. The Court thus by order dated August 20, 2012 (copy attached) changed the effective date of those amendments from September 4, 2012 (as set out in the June 26, 2012 order) to November 5, 2012.

The Court's August 20, 2012 order also changed the effective date of the following (all of which were promulgated by Directive #06-12) from September 4, 2012 to November 5, 2012: (a) the new Acknowledgment of Appeal Rights form (CN 11553), (b) the revised Advisory Notice to Parents and Counsel When Parental Rights Are Terminated (CN 10317), and (3) the Appellate Division's revised Administrative Protocol on Termination of Parental Rights Appeals. Additionally, the references in paragraph (d) of CIC Standard 16 to the September 4 effective date for the rule amendments and revised forms are changed to November 5, 2012. Other than these specific revisions, the remainder of Directive #06-12 and the revised CIC Standards are unchanged.
